

Marras takes a kick at the can

Introducing the Marras Swartland Los Tros Chenin Blanc in a can.

Martin Lamprecht, also known as Marras brings a contemporary range of modern wines to our portfolio, which now includes the first wine in our portfolio being packaged in a can.

This wine is a proudly South African response to the international trend of canned wine. The 250ml can is light in weight and ideal for hiking, camping or "Cool by the pool... or 'damwal'," as Martin says.

The cans are made out of aluminium and is 100% recyclable which helps reduce the product's carbon footprint.
