

Webinar Invitation

Enhanced Recovery After Surgery (ERAS): Medical education engagement to support safe prescribing for patients needing surgery

April 1, 2020
1:00 – 2:30 pm Eastern Standard Time

Please Join Jim Carroll, Director of National Drug Control Policy, and Admiral Brett Giroir, the Assistant Secretary for Health at the Department of Health and Human Services, and prominent ERAS leaders

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the federal approach to the National Drug Control Strategy in supporting safe prescribing as well as prevention and treatment for substance use disorders
- Understand the role of appropriate screening of surgical patients.
- Review the best surgical pathways that optimize pain management, minimize (not eliminate) opioids, and improve surgical outcomes.
- Explore how interprofessional collaboratives are evolving for surgical safe prescribing practices.
- Be inspired to develop innovative strategies that support surgical patients.

Please Register: Participants will receive instructions on accessing the event after RSVPing to the following link: RSVP URL: <https://ems9.intellor.com?do=register&t=1&p=901238>

You may share this invitation with colleagues
Space is Limited, so register early

Scheduled Speakers:

- James Carroll, JD, Director, White House Office on National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP)
- ADM Brett P. Giroir, MD, Assistant Secretary for Health at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
- Roneet Lev, MD FACEP, Chief Medical Officer, ONDCP
- Tonia Young-Fadok, MD, General Surgeon, Past President, Enhanced Recovery After Surgery USA
- Michael Scott, MB, ChB, Anesthesiologist, President-Elect, Enhanced Recovery After Surgery® USA and Enhanced Recover After Surgery® Society
- Desiree Chappell, CRNA, Nurse Anesthetist, Evidenced Based Perioperative Medicine
- Elizabeth C. Wick, MD, Colorectal surgeon, Professor of Surgery, University of California, San Francisco
- Stephen L. Kates, MD, Orthopedic Surgeon, American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons

Background:

The Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP), with the assistance of ERAS USA have organized this webinar. ONDCP's Public Health, Education and Treatment Task Force designed this webinar for health care leaders to learn about the National Drug Control Strategy and how the surgical community has an important role in optimal surgical outcomes as well as safe prescribing education, prevention, and referral to addiction services.

The February 2017 National Health Statistics Report estimated 48.3 million surgical and non-surgical procedures in 2010. The patients who need surgery are cared for by nursing, physicians, and physician assistants in the surgical and anesthesia professions. Care is provide in hospital and ambulatory care centers. Innovations in surgical treatment have allowed for improved surgical outcomes, improved pain management, and decrease amount of opioids. This webinar will showcase these evidence based medical care pathways.

The Public Health, Education and Treatment team hopes to utilize this webinar as an opportunity to communicate the Administration's support for safe prescribing practices and the role of the entire health care community in leading the path in both prevention as well as treatment for those who need surgical care.