What happened in these last months? And what comes next?

Dear ICMART members, dear friends,

The annual congress has been postponed for the first time since the founding of ICMART because of the coronavirus pandemic.

At the same time it is our great pleasure to look back to a very successful year in the development of ICMART. Thank you very much to all who have been working very hard to support and spread our common aims around the world.

Challenges for safety and education in acupuncture are growing worldwide. We are working hard to promote the high standards of Medical Acupuncture within national health systems and we are continuing our efforts to have Medical Acupuncture accepted as an official Medical Specialty or Sub-Specialty in conventional medicine. For the first time last year we have been invited as a consultant of WHO into a meeting for defining new standards of education and practice in acupuncture. We succeeded in keeping the high educational standards for medical doctors with our medical societies. WHO though is also promoting non-medical acupuncture, we stick to the high safety standards of Medical Acupuncture, done by dual trained doctors for the highest attainable standard for patients.

More and more medical acupuncture associations are realizing, that with growing globalization there is a growing need for us to join forces. We have the great pleasure to welcome several new member societies. The exchange between our various member associations becomes stronger from year to year with an increasing number of mutual congress participations, thus promoting special developments in acupuncture and Related Techniques to spread all over. For the first time, we had a national congress in Italy with live online transmission and free tickets for each of our ICMART member associations. We encourage all our members to participate in this fantastic exchange of experiences. To facilitate contacts we offer to all of you to promote your associations, your local congresses and events on the ICMART homepage.

Looking forward to meet as many of you as possible during our annual general assembly, online this year.

Best wishes

Hedi Luxenburger

PRESIDENT OF ICMART
Dear Members

Coronavirus (COVID-19) is an evolving international health concern, and ICMART acknowledges the significant impact and disruption that the COVID-19 pandemic will have on your personal and professional lives. The situation is changing rapidly with more people and more countries being affected every day. It is generating unprecedented anxiety in the wider community and in all healthcare professions. Safety and wellbeing of our members is one of our primary concerns. Over 100 countries are in lockdown and have closed their borders to travel. Group meetings have been banned in many countries, social distancing enforced and in the most severe restrictions people are not permitted to leave the house. This renders any congress impossible to stage.

Congress 2020 Athens (hosted by SAMAG) has been in the planning for the last two years and but had to be cancelled for this year, and postponed for 2021. But a on-line webinar will be held instead, Sunday 28th. June, at 3 pm Athens Time, and we invite you to participate attending to our first level speakers.

We wish you good luck and good health for your efforts in helping your patients and your country during these extremely challenging and confronting times,

Watch this space for future updates.

MESSAGE BY THE ICMART BOARD

Dear Members,

We are sorry to announce the postponement of the ICMART Congress planned to be held in Athens 26-28 June 2020. The timing is just some weeks away and it is almost certain that the pandemic will not be under control. Protecting the health, safety, and well-being of our members and attendees is paramount, and serves as the reason for our decision to postpone. Mass gatherings and social distancing is the new social norm, this would make face to face conferences impossible. We apologize for the inconvenience.

But technology is offering a chance to deliver some lectures on line. Keep in touch for more INFO!!

And the good news is that the Athens Congress is not lost, but has been postponed and will be held 2-4 July 2021.

WHO and the World Health Assembly, since 2016 have confirmed several times the aim to spread acupuncture and traditional medicines worldwide as part of an integrative medicine and make it available and affordable to all patients on a high safety level. Since 2017 ICMART met with several delegations Dr Zhang Qi, Head of the department of Traditional, Complementary and Integrative Medicine of WHO in the headquarter in Geneva. For the first time, we started an informal partnership with WHO to represent Medical Acupuncture as acupuncture applied only by fully trained and licensed physicians with an additional training in acupuncture. Medical Acupuncture requires a conventional medical assessment and an evidence-based approach to treatment. It is part of an integrative medical system.

In August 2019 ICMART was invited by WHO to participate in a workshop on „Guidelines on Education and Practice of Acupuncture“ in Wuhan, China. There were participants of the 6 WHO world regions. The meeting was chaired by Dr. Zhang Qi, WHO, Prof Liu Baoyan, President of WFAS(World Federation of Acupuncture societies) and President of CAAM (Chinese Association of Acupuncture and Moxibustion) Hedi Luxenburger, President of ICMART.

This was the very first time, that ICMART participated in a WHO meeting on this high level. We succeeded to keep the educational standards for Medical Acupuncture quite open to be able to leave the responsibility with the medical authorities in the different countries, being able to adopt the education in Medical Acupuncture at the situation in each country, which vary from Medical Acupuncture being at the level of a medical subspecialty up to full medical specialisations in acupuncture.
