What actions are you taking? (Include your City, State and organization)

- We have closed until April 1. Our library is taking its lead from Multnomah County Libraries in Portland. If they stay closed, so will we.
- As a Food Bank, we are having difficulty securing the amount of food we need to service our populations. We have also had to switch to a "drive thru" type of giving food bags so we can reduce our volunteers and staffing interacting with people
- Savannah with Maybelle Center for Community in Portland, Oregon. We have closed all services effective today (decided Friday), until at least April 1st...
- Nora from World Affairs Council in Seattle - we've cancelled all public programs and international exchanges have also been cancelled. We're looking into free virtual event options as a donation/membership incentive
- Dreams For Kids DC = We have cancelled upcoming events and waived our no show fees for any upcoming events as well. We stood up a subcommittee to address the needs of our community and our ongoing response to the outbreak.
- Hoyt Arboretum Friends in Portland Oregon - We have closed our Visitor Center, although the park is still open. We've cancelled (and refunded) classes and programs for the next two weeks and anticipate extending that for at least a month, possibly more. Staff is working from home for the now.
- Audra Keyes, Harper Consulting Group, Seattle We're working with a couple of organizations that are dealing with major challenges.
- Senior Services for South Sound, Olympia, WA - Serving meals on wheels, collaborating with community partners, calling members, updating website and facebook with pertinent information. Many staff working remotely.
- Dunes Bible Camp, Ocean Park, WA - Posted information on our web site. Decreased attendance at a recent retreat.
- WindowDressers, Rockland, Maine - We canceled our annual volunteer gathering and moved our Board retreat online. Our model is completely reliant on volunteers coming together to build insulating window inserts in-person. We may have to suspend operations for a full year depending on how long the pandemic persists.

- The Mental Health Association of Oregon dba Mental Health & Addiction Association of Oregon, Portland, OR - We had to postpone our annual conference to July. We also closed our office and have asked our team to work remotely. Additionally, we have had to be creative in that we have had to offer peer support via phone or through Zoom. Almost a telehealth approach for Peer Support Services.

- Liz Nelson with World Relief Seattle: Our office is closed, though we are still working remotely. We have canceled all meetings, volunteer trainings, community events. Our refugee and asylee clients have had difficulty accessing services and many have been laid off from service industries.

- Yield to the King Ministry - Seattle, WA. We suspended our Community Engagement/Guide Provider services to clients. We frequent public places such as libraries, Starbucks, theaters, community agencies for volunteerism, etc.

- John Selsky, Seattle Chess Club. We were open last week (about 20 participants in Friday night chess) but thinking we may need to close, given just announced public-health guidelines/orders.

- YWCA Walla Walla won’t be able to have our luncheon May 6, per CDC recommendations. We’ve rescheduled for Nov. 4, but we need to go ahead with the fundraising, because the luncheon is about a $160k fundraiser.

- Quest Center for Integrative Health in Portland, OR has moved to full remote operations, canceled group therapy and and moved to telephone sessions for individual therapy. Working to maintain a sense of connection with our historically marginalized communities. Our folks who live with HIV/mental health issues are particularly triggered by the idea of isolating for long periods of time.

- Oregon Historical Society has closed to the public for the next two weeks and encouraged staff to work from home. Public programs are cancelled thru mid-April. This is changing every day with new directives.
• YWCA, Walla Walla, WA - We are also a childcare provider, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction wants us to run free childcare for first responders. We can't do it under our current licensing.

• Bike Works, Seattle, WA - We have closed to the public and postponed our auction from March 22 to October 11. Our employees are mostly working from home, going into the office half time on offset schedules so people are not there in groups larger than 2-3.

• Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Midlands in Omaha, NE is unable to hold our two largest fundraising events of the year due to the virus, recommendations from CDC and the lack of sports being held. We are turning our basketball event scheduled for March 28th into a virtual event to bring in revenue from our silent auction and offering a crowdfunding option as well. Our bowling event (peer-to-peer fundraiser) now won't get to happen as planned. We are working on a plan to figure out what's next, if it can be postponed, etc. We have suspended all contact between our mentoring matches as a precaution to prevent further spread in our community.

• The staff at the Washington State Budget & Policy Center are working from home for the foreseeable future. We're giving sick time to employees who need to care for kids who are home from school. We're looking at how our policy priorities need to be responsive to the investments needed during this time of a public health and economic crisis.

• Walla Walla Chamber Music Festival, Walla Walla, WA - We have run different budget scenarios to help us figure out whether we should plan to run concerts in June, cancel them, or postpone them.

• Scottsdale AZ - Scottsdale Arts - we are shutting our performance center, museum and retail stores for a minimum of two weeks. We will address the situation as it evolves.

• Molokai and Lanai, HI - we are monitoring information and sharing with our staff we are coordinating efforts with our local hospitals and FQHCs

• We in Chicago, IL are working from home for the next two weeks and then will reassess; we are thinking about how to reach out to our funders and how to alter our upcoming funding events
• Cascades Raptor Center, Eugene, OR - limiting number of people into the visitor center at one time, setting up hand-washing station outside Visitor Center, disinfecting high touch surface - most of our facility is outside

• The Rogue Valley Chorale Association (OR) with its 100 voiced adult choir and 3 youth choirs, have suspended all rehearsals starting today until further notice. We are following the State of Oregon and CDC mandates, including the CDC mandate issued yesterday to limit all events for the next 8 weeks. This means that we will likely cancel our late May concerts. We discussed these actions at length last week and the Board of Directors approved these actions, as well as the Executive and Artistic Directors.

• Vashon Heritage Museum, Vashon Island, WA - we have closed until April 24th or until further notice, Postponed our Historical Town Tour and cancelled our May 2nd fundraising event. Postponed May 1st Closing party for Exhibit. All staff and committee meetings working held remotely.

• Syntiro, Readfield, ME - We've moved to working remotely with virtual meetings. Figuring out how to do training and support our schools who are all closed

• Oregon Family Support Network, Eugene, OR - we have gone remote only, adjusting our roles as Family Partners to Peer Support to offer resources, informational and emotional services for the families we serve.

• Omaha, NE we cancelled conferences, trainings or moved online & all staff is working from home and being paid

• The city of Richland, MS has shut down certain public places. We are business as usual with four staff for now. However, one staff member had to stay home and is working from home because of school closures.

• Minneapolis, MN - We are switching to working online, but our direct service staff operating the shelter and permanent housing will continue to go it.

• Together Center in Redmond, WA closing nonessential services physical location. Keeping open health clinic, pharmacy, youth shelter and case management. Many other providers using tele or video conference to serve community.
• Lake Oswego/Portland, OR area - We are closing our public/gallery space until April 10 (following guidelines from the City of Lake Oswego) and re-evaluating as we get closer to that date. We've cancelled all public events. Arts Council of Lake Oswego

• Key Peninsula Partnership For a Healthy Community, Gig Harbor, WA - We are establishing, through our rural fire department, a single-source information website and communication network.

• The Climate Trust, Portland, OR - We've experienced many, many cancellations, between travel, meetings, conferences, board meetings etc. We have decided to work from home for 2 weeks as a preventative and socially responsible measure. We will reevaluate at that point when to return to the office.

• OR - As a state arts agency, we are brainstorming ways to respond to, support, promote advocacy for, etc. for arts and culture nonprofits and individual artists in Oregon. Top of mind are the economic impacts of event cancellations and closures across the entire arts and culture field.

• Project Pink'd, Omaha, NE - rescheduling events planned for the next 90 days and reworking our 2020 budget

• Arboretum Foundation, Seattle, WA - Visitor Center and Gift shop closed to public. Staff telecommuting and only 1 person in at a time. ZOOM Board and staff meeting. We're also running different scenarios on drop in membership and donations for 3rd and 4th quarter.

• Portland, OR: we had to cancel our annual fundraising event. Additionally we're concerned about the market fluctuations and the impact that will have on donors

• Donate Life Northwest. We serve Oregon and SW Washington. All of our staff are currently working from home and have canceled most events

• Skagit County Historical Museum, La Conner, WA - Closed our Museum to the public and have cancelled all events through end of April.

• Family Support Center of South Sound, Olympia, WA - We are the primary resource for families experiencing homelessness (or in crisis) and DV survivors our community. We are continuing to provide direct services via phone, email, and in person meetings as needed. We also had to cancel two main fundraisers :(

- Renaissance, San Francisco, CA - we are "remote-encouraged" and trying to learn from those of you who have been dealing with this longer than we. Thank you in Advance!
- West Columbia Gorge Humane Society, Ridgefield, WA - We are in SW Washington state and have sent out Covid 19 notification to members. We are a very small humane society so are still running business as usual at this point.
- Grand Island, NE - We have canceled classes and will start online classes next week after spring break.
- Community Youth Services, Olympia, WA - starting to telecommute for non-essential staff. Shelters are open with limiting numbers in the space
- Eugene, OR - Community Youth Services, Olympia, WA- starting to telecommute for non-essential staff. Shelters are open with limiting numbers in the space
- RiversWest, Portland, OR - We are suspending all public activities. Our members only shop is open for use by members.
- College Possible Oregon, Portland, OR - We have moved to a remote work model until April 1st. All coaching for our students will happen remotely through systems like Skype, HighFive & Zoom. After April 1st we will be re-assessing when our office will re-open on a weekly basis.
- Children's Cancer Association, Portland, OR - We are working remotely for the most part, have shuttered our in-hospital programming and all upcoming events. We are brainstorming alternative fundraising options in the near and long term.
- Roseburg, OR - We have closed the office to all outside traffic and scheduling meetings through phone/virtual. Employees are encouraged to work from home if they can. At our apartment complexes we have closed the community rooms and offices.
- In4All, Beaverton, OR - we have cancelled classroom presentation for the next two months for now. Staff working from home this week, optional for next week.
- In Portland, OR events- small and large- are being cancelled, key arts and culture and community spaces being closed - public libraries, recreation centers, museums. Anxiety high + loss of community. Public schools statewide cancelled through end of March. Governor considering shutting restaurants.

- Treehouse, Seattle, WA - Our Executive Team is meeting each morning to assess changing conditions, and we are holding weekly Town Hall meetings with all staff to keep them updated. More communication is better right now, especially with rapidly changing conditions.

- Sleep in Heavenly Peace (nationwide) has turned off our website request link and put a notification that we will not be doing public builds or bed deliveries for 30 days. We have also called our waiting list letting them know the same. We will they understand.
