NEW EACH DAY | a daily devotion from Corrie Ten Boom

It has been said that the removal of small stones which frequently encumber the fields does not always increase the crop. In many soils they are an advantage, attracting the moisture and radiating the heat. In the experiment the results of removing the stones were so unfavorable to the crop that they were brought back again. We often cry to God, as Paul did, for the removal of some thorns in the flesh. Later experience teaches us that it was better for it to remain.

For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities. For when I am weak, then I am strong.
(2 Corinthians 12:10)

*Your strength, my weakness—here they always meet,
 When I lay down my burden at Your feet:
 The things that seem to crash will in the end
 Be seen as rungs on which I did ascend!*

Thank You, Lord!
